

Substance Use Disorder Professional (SUDP) Apprenticeship Occupational Overview for Employers

Expand and enhance your skilled behavioral health workforce today! The Health Care Apprenticeship Consortium (HCAC) training program for Substance Use Disorder Professionals helps you recruit and retain skilled employees.

SUDPs are trained to conduct assessments, counsel individuals and groups, assist in insurance authorization, conduct utilization review, and assist with case management in addition to other typical associated behavioral health duties.

Benefits of Apprenticeships

Apprenticeship programs, in addition to adding new staff, are proven to build retention of current staff mentor/preceptors and increase their leadership skills. Apprentices “learn while they earn”—working full time while gaining skills taught by experienced teachers, coaches, and assigned mentor/preceptors. Apprentices earn college credit by completing a 2 – 2.5 year program (depending on an apprentice’s prior experience) through our educational partners, and also sign a two-year post-graduation service commitment agreement. Healthcare Apprenticeship positions typically attract more than 30 qualified candidate applications per opening.

Program Details

The SUDP apprenticeship program involves:

- 560 hours of classroom and lab sessions
- 4,000 hours of work experience
- Passing the National Certified Addiction Counselor Level I (NCAC I) certification exam upon program completion, which permits Washington SUDP certification.

Process

Healthcare organizations employing SUDP apprentices must complete simple Training Agent and Non-Discrimination agreements to register as an employer (“Training Agent”) with the Washington State Apprenticeship and Training Council (we provide guidance to help you complete this requirement).

SUDP apprentices are supervised by the lead provider at the facility, and work with other staff (or designated skills staff) who are trained as mentor/preceptors. Mentors at each location assist facility providers with apprentices’ On-the-Job learning. Classrooms (virtual real-time) and Labs (in-person) are hybrid, with access available throughout Washington and adjoining communities.

Employer program cost: $8,200 per candidate (regular cost) for two-year program

OR $0 per candidate (for employers who complete grant-based requirements) *

Limited grant is funding available to cover the entire cost for early-bird employer applicants
